

THE CATHEDRAL OF THE ROCKIES
(The place to go is Idaho)

Boise, Idaho's First Methodist Church, foremost example of dynamic Gothic architecture, is the first church built for Television; its Minister, Dr. Herbert E. Richards, conducts the largest number of TV and Radio programs of any individual church in America.

The stained glass — some with gold "flown layer on layer" — weds traditional Biblical iconography with modern subject matter.

The social and educational church facilities include barbecue pits, roller skating, nurseries, kindergartens, equipment for the aging, and an Arlington Carillon.
